OPENED W9026 was opened to remove the kukkar surface W9012 and continue excavating the square.

DEFINITION/LIMITS W9026 extended from W9019 and the rubble along the south baulk north to the north baulk. It reached from the west baulk to the east baulk.

CLOSED W9026 was closed as a technical change when its level reached the level of the bottom of pit W9018 and there was no difference in the matrices.

RELATION TO OTHER ELEMENTS W9026 was broken in the northern part of the square by pit W9018. It was cut off by rubble in the southern part of the square. W9026 reached W9019 on either side of the stones adjoining W9019/W9000 floated above the level of W9026. W9026 reached the stones adjoining W9019.
MATRIX The soil in W9026 was light brown in the center and north east corners of the square with a few ash lenses. Sherds from 2 pots were found in upright connecting positions. Two bronze coins were found. Soil included sherds and some rocks. OVER →
