Summary

Opened: In excavating [L9727] and defining [F9727], came down upon disturbed area; opened pit [L9736]

- Limits (N) Bordered by [W9704]
 (S) Bordered by [L9727]
 (E) Bordered by [L9737]
 (W) Bordered by [L9727]

Closed: Not closed; End of Season

Matrix: Mudbrick debris and lots of pottery, including Canaanite storage vessel fragment, and bones; soil considerably looser than material surrounding;

Relations: [L9727] lies above, but does not seal, [L9736]. [L9736] appears to have been dug from [F9727]. The surface of [F9727] appears to have been laid after pit [L9736] was dug since [F9727] curls under, forming a lip, around the edges of the pit, particularly at the E and W sides. To the N [W9704] floats above [L9736]. To the E, [L9736] cuts [L9737]. The material within [L9736] does not contain evidence of destruction seen in [L9737]. Since [L9736] has not been completely excavated yet, further excavation is necessary to determine its relation to other, as-of-yet unnamed loci around it.

Additional Observations/Value: Although a pit, the material contained therein is probably that of a single period.
